A word from the Venerable Master

Dear Brethren,

This month started in sorrow in the Taipei valley with the departure of Illustrious Kok Cheong Cheah a high figure in Malaysian Freemasonry. I present my sincere condolences to his family and to all Malaysian brothers. We shall miss him.

Life continues and we are preparing the Spring Reunion in Kuala Lumpur, an opportunity to pay a last homage to KC. I hope to see you there.

We are at the eve of the Year of the Rat, and I wish you and your family an Happy and prosperous New Year

Fraternally yours,

Charles Teng,
Venerable Master

The Year of the Rat

The first animal who arrived was the Rat

The Rat is the first of all zodiac animals. In Chinese culture, rats were seen as a sign of wealth and surplus. Because of their reproduction rate, married couples also prayed to them for children. Rats are clever, quick thinkers; successful, but content with living a quiet and peaceful life.

The Rat is the resourceful leader of the pack. As the Chinese say, even in times of scarcity, Rats somehow always know where sacks of grain can be found. They are intelligent, energetic, and can adapt to any situation, solving each problem with ease. It is no wonder that these remarkably resourceful creatures are the supreme opportunists and arch survivors of the Animal Signs.

People born in the year of the Rat like to be ahead of the game. They are restless and inquisitive, and their minds are constantly on the go. They are also happy homemakers. They put the comfort of themselves and their families above fashions and the latest trends. They rejoice in their family and home. Blessed with inventive minds, they are known for living by their wits. Whatever they do, the members of the Rat Sign will bring innovation and fresh insight to their work.

The year of the Rat is auspicious for all new beginnings. It is a time to turn over a new leaf and take a fresh look at the world. Spirits rise and market economies begin to show an upward turn. Let us all gear for another successful year of our lives!

Scottish Knight of St Andrew Death before dishonor

This degree is the second of Chivalric order, and prepare the 14th degree, Knight of Kadosh. It emphasize the knightly and heroic virtues: humility, patience, self-denial, charity, clemency, generosity, virtue, truth and honor. These are the nine great lights which distinguish the Scottish Knight of St Andrew. The degree features the end of the Templar order, describing the arrest of Templars in 1307, their escape to Scotland, and participation to the battle of Bannockburn between Scotts and English, in 1314, while the same year the Grand Master Jacques de Molay was burned alive.

The King Robert Bruce created the Order of St Andrew to receive the remaining knights Templars.

The main symbol of this degree is the X-shaped Saint Andrew Cross. According to the legend St Andrew did not want to suffer his martyrdom on the latin cross as Jesus.
